MAURICIO POCHETTINO

Good afternoon and welcome back to our home.

Our last two games since the win here against Southampton have ended in disappointment against Bayern Munich in the Champions League and Brighton & Hove Albion in the Premier League. We are completely focused on addressing that today against Watford and we will support each other in our aim to bounce back.

Of course, we accept the opinions when we don't win and it is normal that these are negative following the last two results, however this happens at every club in the world at varying levels.

During difficult times we all have to be up for the fight and now is the time to genuinely be together and turn things around; we will put that in our heads and I am sure we will recover. We have a strong mentality and we are always trying to find ways to improve while sticking to our principles.

We welcomed a familiar face back to the Club this week in Michel Vorm.

"WE ALL HAVE TO BE UP FOR THE FIGHT AND NOW IS THE TIME TO GENUINELY BE TOGETHER AND TURN THINGS AROUND; WE WILL PUT THAT IN OUR HEADS AND I AM SURE WE WILL RECOVER"

Through his experience, he will provide valuable goalkeeping cover following the elbow injury sustained by Hugo Lloris in the match at Brighton earlier this month. Our wishes also go out to Hugo for a speedy recovery.

Today we will be showing our support for the Premier League's 'No Room For Racism' campaign; an extremely important topic which unfortunately is in the news at the moment for the wrong reasons.

There is absolutely no place for racism or any type of abuse in our stadium, so if you see it, please report it to the police or a steward. Our beautiful game brings together fans and players from all backgrounds and we will not allow a small minority to ruin this. Everyone is welcome, racism is not.

This afternoon we welcome Quique Sánchez Flores and his Watford side. Every game is a battle in the Premier League and we understand the high levels of work and determination required to get the win we desire today.

Your brilliant support never wanes, even through tough times, and please be assured this is always appreciated by ourselves and all the players.

Enjoy the game.

DIER'S RALLYING CALL

Eric Dier has been a constant in this team since arriving at the same time as Mauricio Pochettino ahead of the 2014/15 season. He cares, is hurt by recent results and determined to help put matters right.

Still only 25, Eric, who has proudly worn the armband for Club and country, was consistency personified before illness and injury restricted him to 28 appearances last season. Indeed, he featured in 146 of our 161 matches in all competitions across the 2015/16, 2016/17 and 2017/18 seasons, a record of which he's rightly proud.

After a tough start this time around, he's back, fit and focussed as we look to pick up the pieces from recent defeats against Colchester United in the League Cup, Bayern Munich in the Champions League and Brighton last time out in the Premier League.

"To be honest, after Brighton, I wanted to play again the next day," he reflected at Hotspur Way earlier this week. "It's never nice going into an international break on that note and having to wait this long.

"At the same time, it gives you time to settle and put your emotions in the right place. Hopefully that's what we'll do, and we can all push through this as a Club. We need everyone - players, staff, fans - to stand up and push through this.

"We've wanted to get to the point where we are considered a team that if you lose two games like that, you come in for a lot of criticism. Now, we have to embrace the situation.

"I really feel the mentality in the building is 'let's fight through this'. I don't want us to be one of those teams that allows a situation like this to escalate and eventually bring us down. We're very realistic about our situation and we know we need to do better."

Eric added: "We're going to have to be as strong as we've ever been to push past this period, and you can have my word that everyone here will do the most they possibly can to do that."

YOUNG PLAYERS SUPPORT VITAL CAMPAIGN

The Club supported Restart a Heart Day on Wednesday, a global initiative that aims to raise awareness of the importance of learning how to perform CPR.

Under-23 players Jubril Okedina, Maurizio Pochettino and Maximus Tainio joined North Middlesex University Hospital's resuscitation team and students from St Edmund's Catholic Primary School to learn the skills needed to save someone's life following a cardiac arrest.

These ranged from checking breathing and performing 'mouth-to-mouth' rescue breaths on life-sized models, to heart massage and how to use a defibrillator. By helping people gain practical experience of CPR, the initiative strives to improve survival rates for those who have suffered a cardiac arrest, which are currently less than one in 10.

Event organiser and resuscitation practitioner, Belinda Okyere, said: "It was great to welcome Jubril, Maurizio and Max. Their presence and interaction with the kids was greatly appreciated and will have certainly contributed towards some long-lasting memories. We thank them and the Club for spending time with us and hope that they also learnt some valuable, lifesaving skills during their visit."

Maurizio said: "It was fantastic to be here with the children as they learnt how to save a life. These skills are so important as you never know when you'll need to use them."

For more information about Restart a Heart Day, visit the St John Ambulance, British Heart Foundation and Resuscitation Council UK websites.

ONE AND ONLY

PETER GARLAND
DOB: 20.01.71
POSITION: MIDFIELDER

As part of an occasional feature, Andy Greeves takes at a look at former Spurs players who made just a single competitive appearance for us. Today, he explores the career of midfielder Peter Garland, who featured in our First Division match at Norwich City in April 1991.

Having beaten Southampton 2-0 just four days earlier, manager Terry Venables made no less than seven changes to our starting XI for our trip to Norwich City on 10 April, 1991, mindful of our upcoming FA Cup semi-final meeting with Arsenal.

Goalkeeper Ian Walker and forward John Hendry were brought into the line-up to make their senior debuts while Paul Gascoigne made a timely return from injury to captain the side after a five-match absence. David Howells was also back after 10 games on the sidelines.

Norwich took the lead after just 12 minutes of the match through a strike from Lee Power. We drew level two minutes from half-time though as Hendry – a summer signing from Dundee – marked his first appearance for us with a goal.

In the second-half, former apprentice Ian Hendon – who made his debut for us a month earlier in a 3-2 defeat at Aston Villa – replaced Pat Van Den Hauwe as a substitute. Peter Garland, another product of our youth academy, came on for Gascoigne to make his first team debut meanwhile with around a third of the match remaining.

"That half an hour was like playing two reserve games on the spin," commented Garland on his debut at Norwich in a subsequent home match programme. "I knew that First Division football was fast, but the reality was amazing. I found it hard to adjust and get into the game, but once I picked up the pace of the play, I started to enjoy myself more."

A long-range effort from former Spur Ian Crook sealed a 2-1 victory for Norwich nine minutes from time. For Garland, who was born in Croydon on 20 January, 1971, the Carrow Road encounter proved to be his one and only competitive appearance in a Spurs shirt.

Garland originally joined us as a trainee in July 1987, putting pen to paper on a professional contract in the summer of 1989. The midfielder was part of our youth team that won the South East Counties League in his first season with us in 1987/88, featuring in 26 of our 30 matches in the division during the campaign. He made 100 reserve league appearances during his time with us, scoring 10 goals in the process, and was part of the side that won the Football Combination title in both 1987/88 and 1988/89.

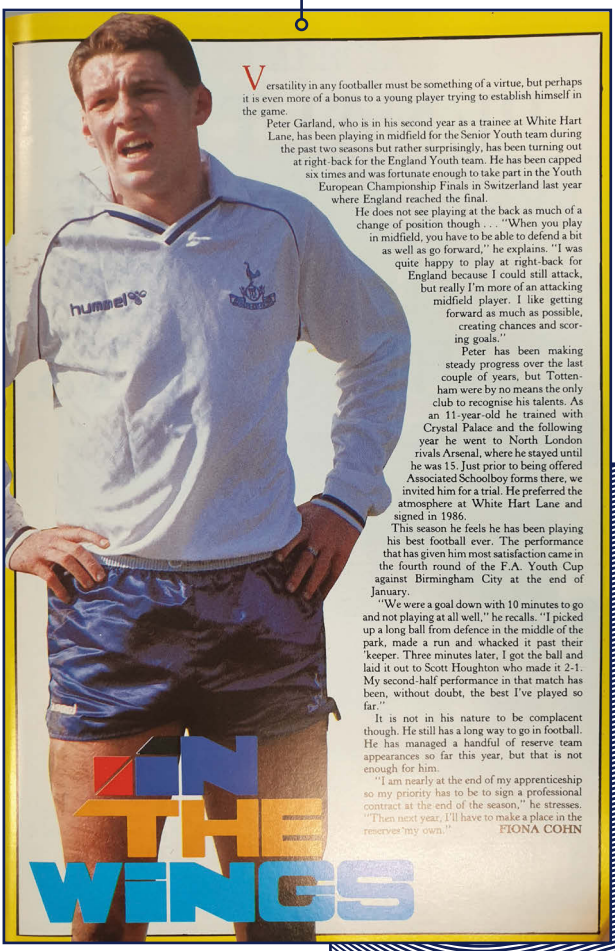
Garland's first involvement in our senior side came as a substitute in a 2-1 victory over Caen in a friendly match in Cherbourg on 13 October, 1989. He featured in seven first team friendlies during his time as a Spurs player, with his one and only start coming in a 2-0 defeat to Messina in the Nicola Cerovolo Memorial Tournament on 11 August, 1991. Prior to making his competitive debut away at Norwich, he was an unused substitute in our 1-0 victory at Blackpool in the FA Cup third round on January 5, 1991.

Garland made his final appearance for our reserve side against Norwich on 21 March, 1992 prior to a transfer to Newcastle United. He went on to make just two appearances for the Magpies - his debut against Millwall at St James' Park on 18 April, 1992 as well another Division Two match at Leicester City a few weeks later.

He returned to London in December 1992 to sign for Charlton Athletic, for whom he scored twice in 53 league appearances. He was loaned to Wycombe Wanderers during his time with the Addicks before signing for Leyton Orient in the summer of 1996. After 21 league matches for the O's, he embarked on a career in non-league football, representing the likes of Crawley Town, Whyteleafe, Dulwich Hamlet, Erith Town and Greenwich Borough. He served as caretaker player-manager of the latter in 2006.

AN INTERVIEW WITH PETER AS FEATURED IN OUR MATCHDAY PROGRAMME IN 1988



Versatility in any footballer must be something of a virtue, but perhaps it is even more of a bonus to a young player trying to establish himself in the game.

Peter Garland, who is in his second year as a trainee at White Hart Lane, has been playing in midfield for the Senior Youth team during the past two seasons but rather surprisingly, has been turning out at right-back for the England Youth team. He has been capped six times and was fortunate enough to take part in the Youth European Championship Finals in Switzerland last year where England reached the final.

He does not see playing at the back as much of a change of position though . . . "When you play in midfield, you have to be able to defend a bit as well as go forward," he explains. "I was quite happy to play at right-back for England because I could still attack, but really I'm more of an attacking midfield player. I like getting forward as much as possible, creating chances and scoring goals."

Peter has been making steady progress over the last couple of years, but Tottenham were by no means the only club to recognise his talents. As an 11-year-old he trained with Crystal Palace and the following year he went to North London rivals Arsenal, where he stayed until he was 15. Just prior to being offered Associated Schoolboy forms there, we invited him for a trial. He preferred the atmosphere at White Hart Lane and signed in 1986.

This season he feels he has been playing his best football ever. The performance that has given him most satisfaction came in the fourth round of the F.A. Youth Cup against Birmingham City at the end of January.

"We were a goal down with 10 minutes to go and not playing at all well," he recalls. "I picked up a long ball from defence in the middle of the park, made a run and whacked it past their 'keeper. Three minutes later, I got the ball and laid it out to Scott Houghton who made it 2-1. My second-half performance in that match has been, without doubt, the best I've played so far."

It is not in his nature to be complacent though. He still has a long way to go in football. He has managed a handful of reserve team appearances so far this year, but that is not enough for him.

"I am nearly at the end of my apprenticeship so my priority has to be to sign a professional contract at the end of the season," he stresses. "Then next year, I'll have to make a place in the reserves 'my own."

FIONA COHN

ALSO FEATURING

Watford-born centre-forward Percy Austin made his solitary Football League appearance for us in a 3-2 defeat at Birmingham City on 31 December, 1927. The former Farnham United Breweries frontman was released at the end of his debut season with us, having also featured in our 4-3 triumph over Clapton Orient in a London Professional Football Charity Fund match on 17 November, 1927. He passed away on 15 August, 1961 at the age of 58.

"Who would have thought it, Winksy?" It seemed a fair question. Harry Winks is recalling another interview during pre-season in Asia. Trundling down Zhongshan East 1st Road in Shanghai, on the banks of the River Bund, he spoke about his journey from our Academy and what was next both for him and the team after playing in the final of the Champions League barely two months earlier.

As it turns out, what was next for him was a starting role in Mauricio Pochettino's team. As we prepare to face Watford, Harry has started nine of our 11 games in all competitions, seven of eight in the Premier League. Unfortunately for the team, it's a tough period as we look to recover from recent losses against Colchester in the Carabao Cup, Bayern Munich in the Champions League and Brighton last time out in the Premier League.

So, as we said, who would have thought we'd be talking like this? "That's the thing with football, you can't script it," said Winksy, now 23 and back at the Club this week after representing England against Bulgaria on Monday night.

"We could be having a conversation in a couple of months where we've been on a great run, we're back up in the top four with the FA Cup and Champions League knockout stages to come. Right now, we're sitting here talking about how things aren't going our way. That's football. You never know what is around the corner. I guess that's why everyone loves it so much."

"EVERY TIME I PLAY FOR TOTTENHAM IT'S SOMETHING SPECIAL. I'VE ALWAYS SUPPORTED TOTTENHAM, CAME THROUGH THE SYSTEM AND I KNOW WHAT IT MEANS"

A fan living the dream, Winksy feels every defeat. He knows how much our Club means to so many people. "As I always say, every time I play for Tottenham it's something special. I've always supported Tottenham, came through the system and I know what it means. By the way, that's not to say the other lads don't feel the same way.

"Every time I get the opportunity, I'm playing as one of the fans, representing them," states Harry, straight from the heart. "I've been in the stands at White Hart Lane, at Wembley for finals, been away, sung the songs and celebrated. To be able to go out there and play, when we win it's that little sweeter and when we lose, yes, it's painful."

How things might have been different. A VAR decision went against us at Leicester. That 'goal' would have seen us 2-0 up with 25 minutes left, but we lost 2-1. A few days later and one goal may well have been enough at Colchester, where we then lost a penalty shoot-out. We played superbly in the first half against Bayern Munich, conceded just before half-time and, well, you know the rest. Brighton, however, was disappointing, a 3-0 loss at the Amex.

"It's fine margins," reflected Winksy. "We went out of the Carabao Cup on a penalty shoot-out at Colchester. Win that, no-one mentions that game. Leicester could have been a different story. We conceded just before half-time against Bayern Munich having played so well in the first half.

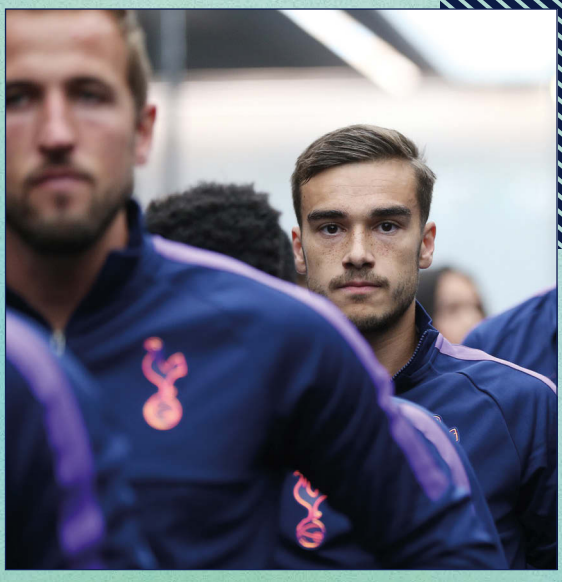
"Brighton, okay, it wasn't great to lose to a team in that manner. First of all, credit to Brighton, but we weren't good enough on the day. I doubt if we'll play like that again. It's important we don't allow that to happen again. It was unacceptable, embarrassing, painful. In many respects, that kind of performance and result wakes you up and gets you back into gear.

"No-one wants to lose games, no-one wants to be in a bad run of form and we're working hard in training to get our form back. A run of wins and things can quickly change, confidence starts growing and you don't look back. It's been a difficult spell in terms of results because in the last few years we've had so many highs but, yes, the last couple of results have been difficult."

It's certainly the toughest spell of Winksy's senior career. He made his debut back in 2014 and his breakthrough season followed in 2015/16 with 33 appearances in all competitions. That went up to 41 last season as he recovered from injury to start the Champions League Final on 1 June. He's now up to 111 appearances in all competitions.

"It's a learning curve," he said. "In football, you go through different spells. If anything, a spell like this can toughen you up, make you a lot stronger mentally. It's not easy. It certainly makes you appreciate the good times.

"IT'S IMPORTANT WE DON'T GET TOO CARRIED AWAY WITH THE LAST COUPLE OF RESULTS AND STICK TO WHAT WE DO BEST, STICK TO OUR PHILOSOPHY AND I'M SURE THINGS WILL CHANGE"



"It's not all doom and gloom. Things can change. If we go on a run of wins, we'll be right back up there. It's important we don't get too carried away with the last couple of results and stick to what we do best, stick to our philosophy and I'm sure things will change."

Watford provide another challenge this afternoon. FA Cup finalists and 11th in the Premier League last season, few pundits would have envisaged their struggles as they arrive for the first time at our new stadium sitting at the foot of the table, without a win in their eight games so far. That prompted a managerial change with Quique Sanchez Flores back in the chair, his second spell having managed the Hornets in 2015/16.

"They are looking a lot more defensively solid now, more compact," added Harry. "It will be tough, and they will be up for it but it's important for us to stick to our game and if we do what we do best, we should be fine."

Meanwhile, Winksy will find a familiar face – both to him and Spurs fans – in the away dressing room today. Dean Austin, who made 150 appearances for us between 1992-1998, is back with Watford in his third spell on the coaching staff, his second with Flores. Dean has also managed Northampton Town and knows the Winks family, who, like him, are from Hemel Hempstead.

"Dean has been like a mentor for me since the age for 15, 16 when I started off as a scholar," explained Harry. "He's helped me through some tough times and always been there for me. He's from Hemel Hempstead as well and a family friend. I just sat down with him one afternoon, had a chat with him and never looked back. He's helped me get to where I've got to today."

Finally, a nod to England's 6-0 win in Bulgaria on Monday night, Winksy's fourth cap and first since last November, a night that hit the headlines for all the wrong reasons following terrible racist behaviour from the home fans.

"It was good to be back in the England squad, to start again and to win in the manner we did in such difficult circumstances. I'm playing regularly for Spurs, which is great, loving being a key part of the team and to be called up by England is nice recognition of where I'm at the moment. Long may it continue."

SCENE SETTER

Previewing this afternoon's Premier League meeting with Watford, looking at the form guide, previous encounters and a whole host of vital statistics…

DID YOU KNOW?

We have won each of our last nine top-flight home games against Watford, including all six in the Premier League.

2019
It was the late show in January, as Craig Cathcart gave Watford the lead but we hit back with two goals in the final 10 minutes from Heung-Min Son and Fernando Llorente to take the points.
2017
Another good win against the Hornets on home soil as goals from Dele Alli, Eric Dier and Heung-Min Son saw us race into a 3-0 half-time lead, with Sonny adding a fourth after the break.
2015
A first Premier League win at Vicarage Road saw Heung-Min Son steal the points with a last-gasp flick past former Spur Heurelho Gomes to secure a 2-1 victory.
2007
A history-making meeting at the Lane as we won 3-1 with goalkeeper Paul Robinson scoring deep inside his own half against Ben Foster. Jermaine Jenas and Hossam Ghaly also scored.
1999
Our first Premier League encounter ended in a 4-0 home win on Boxing Day, David Ginola, Steffen Iversen and Tim Sherwood (2) all on target.

PREVIOUS MEETINGS

v Watford

Today we take on Watford for the 13th time in the Premier League and we hold the upper hand having lost just one of the previous 12. Let's take a look at five of those meetings…

HEAD TO HEAD

Watford's only victory in our 12 Premier League meetings came at Vicarage Road when they won 2-1 in September, 2018.

STADIUM STAT

Today's game means Watford's last three away matches against us have taken place at different venues – Stadium MK, Wembley Stadium and Tottenham Hotspur Stadium.

SON SHINES

Heung-Min Son has scored five goals against Watford, the joint most he has netted against any Premier League team for Spurs (also five v Bournemouth and Palace).

HEAD TO HEAD

TEAM FORM

Spurs:	Watford:

We'll be looking to bounce back this afternoon following two successive defeats in all competitions, conceding 10 goals in the process. We have only lost one of our last five home matches however, including three wins from four this season and we will be aiming to extend our winning sequence against the Hornets to seven straight Premier League victories.

It's been a tough start to the season for Watford, who are without a Premier League win in eight matches so far. In fact, the Hornets are winless in 12 league games (D4 L8), their longest-ever winless streak in the top-flight. They remain the only Premier League team without a win this term, but are still just four points away from Southampton in 17th place.

A talented winger with undoubted flair and an eye for the spectacular, Deulofeu came through the ranks at Barcelona, making his first-team debut aged just 17. He soon got a taste of the Premier League, spending the 2013/14 season on loan at Everton, where he made 25 league appearances. He then returned to La Liga with Sevilla before going back to Goodison Park for another temporary spell in 2016/17. Later that season Deulofeu was on the move again, this time to Milan, where he made 17 league appearances, scoring four goals. He then spent time back at parent club Barcelona before moving to Watford in 2017, initially on loan before the transfer was made permanent the following year. He scored 12 goals in 2018/19 for the Hornets and has also gained international recognition, making four appearances for Spain to date.

CLUB CELEBRATES BLACK HISTORY MONTH

Throughout October, the Club is celebrating Black History Month, the annual celebration of the UK's black history and heritage, as part of our commitment to promoting equality and diversity for all.

We are dedicating today's home fixture against Watford to Black History Month, celebrating the role of influential black players in the Club's history.

Tottenham Hotspur Foundation will be delivering workshops to local primary school students on the subject of black history in both football and the Tottenham area, supported by players from the Men's and Women's First Teams.

The Club is working with Nike and the Black Collective of Media in Sport (BCOMS) initiative, supporting young black media students into journalism. At today's game, we will be hosting a group of students in our media facilities, providing an insight into sports journalism at the highest level.

The Club will also feature in and support Nike's celebration of black British athletes and their contribution to British sport.

Ledley King, Club Ambassador, said: "I am proud to be involved in the Club's support of Black History Month – a campaign that has played such a huge role in promoting diversity and breaking down barriers in society for more than 30 years.

"Diversity and equality for all is at the heart of everything the Club does - on matchdays, with its staff and throughout its local community.

"Both the Club and its local community have such a rich black history and it is important that we use Black History Month to both celebrate this and educate future generations."

THE HISTORY MAKERS

Black players have had an integral role in our history, dating right back to the 1909/10 season when Walter Tull became the first black player to appear for Spurs.

He was part of a landmark team in the club's history, the one that featured in the Club's first-ever Football League Division One match against Sunderland on 1 September, 1909. In more recent times, many black players have worn the Spurs shirt with pride and taken roles on our coaching staff.

We take a look at some of those significant milestones and achievements...

FIRST BLACK PLAYER

Walter Tull
As mentioned earlier, Walter Tull was our first black player. Born in Folkestone on 28 April, 1888, to an English mother and West Indian father, he was orphaned at the age of nine. But he forged a career in football, joining the famous amateur club Clapton for the 1908/09 season and it was his performances for them that alerted us to his talents. A centre-forward, he made his league debut for us on the opening day of the 1909/10 season as we lost 1-3 at Sunderland and he played in six of our opening seven games. He only played three times the following season and moved to Northampton Town in October, 1911, where he played until the outbreak of the First World War.

Serving in the Footballers' Battalion, he became the first black officer in the British army and was mentioned in dispatches, before being killed in action at Favreuil in France on 25 March, 1918.

FIRST BLACK GOALSCORER

Walter Tull
Just four games into his Spurs career, Tull scored his first goal in our colours and duly became our first black goalscorer. It came away to Bradford City on 18 September, 1909, unfortunately in a 1-5 defeat while he also scored at White Hart Lane the following season in a 1-1 draw with Manchester City.

Our first black player to score in the Premier League era was Sol Campbell, who netted on his Spurs debut in a 2-1 home defeat to Chelsea on 5 December, 1992.

Having scored 143 goals in 363 appearances during his 10-year Spurs career, Jermain Defoe is our leading black goalscorer. He sits sixth on our all-time top scorers list, while three other black players have broken the 50-goal barrier – Garth Crooks (75 goals), Chris Armstrong (62) and Dele Alli (53).

FIRST BLACK CAPTAIN

Garth Crooks
While Steve Perryman was our club captain during the 1982/83 campaign, his absence in a number of games during the first half of that season gave the opportunity for Garth Crooks to take over the skipper's role, to become our first black captain.

He only skippered the side once – at his former club Stoke City in Division One on 11 December, 1982. We lost 2-0.

"I do remember the occasion well and that I was captain but am amazed to be told of its significance," said Garth. "I never really appreciated what I had achieved at the time simply because nobody told me. Nor was there any fuss made. Now I can't tell you how thrilled I am.

"I also recall that I wasn't playing well at the time and manager Keith Burkinshaw was trying to give me a lift by letting me lead the side at the Victoria Ground, my old stomping ground. But it didn't really work! I had a mare, we didn't do well, the result was a poor one – and I was subbed on the hour!

"So not a great personal memory from a playing perspective but an occasion that I am now immensely proud of."

A few years later, Chris Hughton took the armband for two matches – Everton away on 11 May, 1987, and Manchester City at the Lane on 13 January, 1990.

Our first black Club captain was Sol Campbell, who came through the youth ranks to skipper the team for three seasons from 1998/99 to 2000/01, in the process becoming our first black captain to lift a trophy when we won the League Cup in 1999.

Ledley King followed a similar path to Campbell, from Academy graduate to Club captain and wore the armband between 2005/06 to 2008/09, also picking up silverware following our League Cup triumph over Chelsea in 2008.

A whole host of other black players have skippered the side down the years, including the likes of Dean Richards, Edgar Davids, Jermaine Jenas, Jermain Defoe, William Gallas, Younes Kaboul, Kyle Walker, Danny Rose and Dele Alli.

FIRST BLACK INTERNATIONAL PLAYER

Chris Hughton
Full-back Chris Hughton came through our youth system to make his first team debut on 1 September, 1979, and less than two months later he was playing on the international stage. Hughton featured for the Republic of Ireland against USA on 29 October and went on to win 51 caps while at Spurs, scoring once for his country.

Our first black player to feature for England was Sol Campbell who won his first cap after coming on as a substitute against Hungary on 17 May, 1996. In total, we have had 16 black players appear for the Three Lions including the likes of Les Ferdinand, Jermain Defoe, Tom Huddlestone, Aaron Lennon, Andros Townsend and current first-teamers Rose and Dele.

FIRST BLACK COACHING STAFF MEMBER

Chris Hughton
Chris Hughton retired from playing at the end of the 1992/93 season but within a matter of months he became the first black person to be appointed on to our coaching staff, under Ossie Ardiles' management. He remained at the club in a number of roles including assistant manager and first team coach, while also taking charge as caretaker manager for our game against Crystal Palace on 24 November, 1997, following the departure of Gerry Francis. Chris left us in October, 2007.

Chris Ramsey joined us in the summer of 2005, initially working as Head of Player Development within our Academy before being appointed Senior Professional Phase Coach at the start of the 2012/13 season. He became first team coach while Tim Sherwood was Head Coach, leaving us in June, 2014.

Also on Sherwood's first team coaching staff was Les Ferdinand, who had initially joined us as a strikers' coach and took on the role of Professional Phase Coach in the summer of 2012, before moving up to the first team.

Dilan Markanday looks to break away from Bayern's Dennis Waidner in UEFA Youth League action

UEFA YOUTH LEAGUE: SPURS 1-4 BAYERN MUNICH

Two goals in the first 11 minutes paved the way for Bayern Munich to claim a 4-1 victory against our Under-19s in the UEFA Youth League on 1 October.

A heavy thunderstorm at kick-off made it a bit of a lottery in the opening stages at Hotspur Way and our German visitors took full advantage, Joshua Zirkzee following in after Angelo Stiller's free-kick bounced off the crossbar and down onto the goal-line before danger man Lasse Günther quickly made it two, albeit with a slight suspicion of off-side against the rapid forward.

Ryan Mason's men maintained their composure and enjoyed the better of the play in the remainder of the first half, Rodel Richards deservedly pulling a goal back as the half-hour mark approached. The rain eased off in the second period but Bayern didn't and made us pay with some powerful attacks coming in from the flanks, Moritz Mosandl firing in from the left side just four minutes after coming on, before Günther lashed home from the opposite side to complete the scoring after the returning Dennis Cirkin blocked his initial attempt.

Spurs: Oluwayemi, Lusala (Fagan-Walcott 68), White, Bowden (c), Binks, Eyoma, Markanday (Etete 73), Oakley-Boothe (Pochettino 73), Richards, Parrott, Maghoma (Cirkin 61). Substitutes (not used): Kurylowicz, Scarlett, Robson.

Bayern Munich: Schneller, Kehl, Waidner, Stiller (Mihaljevic 75), Arrey-Mbi, Daniliuc (c), Tillman, Rhein (Mosandl 58), Zirkzee, Günther, Herrmann (Cuni 71). Substitutes (not used): Mayer, Halbich, Lawrence, Johansson.

WATCH YOUNGSTERS ON TV THIS TUESDAY

Our UEFA Youth League fixture at home to Crvena zvezda on Tuesday (22 October) will now kick-off at 3pm and be shown live on BT Sport.

The match remains at Hotspur Way – tune in to see how our youngsters get on prior to Tuesday night's Champions League match between the two clubs here at Tottenham Hotspur Stadium!

HECTIC SECOND HALF SEES VILLA VICTORIOUS

Six goals in a busy second half at Hotspur Way saw our Under-18s fall to a 4-2 defeat to Aston Villa just before the international break (Saturday 5 October).

After a quiet first half in the Under-18 Premier League clash, our visitors stormed into a 4-0 lead with Charlie Farr, Aaron Ramsey, Brad Young and Mo Sylla all getting on the scoresheet. A late surge saw Dane Scarlett and Tarrelle Whittaker reduce the deficit in the closing stages. One positive saw the return to action of lively winger J'Neil Bennett, who stepped off the bench for his first action of the season following injury.

Spurs: Kurylowicz, Cesay, Lusala, John (Bennett 62), Muir, Cirkin (c), Mundle (Whittaker 68), Robson (Santiago 78), Etete, Scarlett, Cooper. Substitutes (not used): Lo-Tutala, Pedder.

The previous Saturday saw us slip to a 2-1 defeat at West Ham in the Under-18 Premier League Cup, Enock Asante on target for us while Sam Caiger and Iyiola Adebayo scored either side of that for the hosts.

Tarrelle Whittaker... on target against Villa

LADS GO 'WILD' FOR EDUCATIONAL VISIT

Our second-year Under-18s players recently visited Paradise Wildlife Park in Broxbourne as part of our extensive education programme away from football.

In addition to speaking to members of staff at the Park to learn about the fascinating way they build relationships with some of the fierce animals residing there and to learn about their passion and dedication to their work, they analysed the 'pack' characteristics of lions to work on their team ethic.

THE IMPORTANCE OF MENTAL HEALTH

On World Mental Health Day last week, our Under-18s gathered in the classroom at Hotspur Way for a presentation by Michael Bennett, Director of Player Welfare at the PFA.

Former Charlton and Brentford player Michael, now a qualified psychotherapist and counsellor, spoke about his background, having experienced the stress of a serious injury impacting his career and mental health, and explained more about how players can access additional support if needed via the PFA Welfare strategy.

FIVE THINGS TO KNOW ABOUT... ROMAINE MUNDLE

1. Local lad Romaine Mundle was born in North Middlesex Hospital on 24 April, 2003, and grew up in Edmonton. He attended Enfield Grammar School where he excelled at 110m hurdles. He plays as a central midfielder for our Under-18s, having become a full-time scholar during the summer.

2. Who does he like to watch in first team training? "I'd have to say Erik Lamela because I feel like he always gives 100 per cent in whatever he does. His career started off well, then he got that massive injury which brought him down a bit, but since then he's been improving every day, trying to get back to the very top of his game. I like watching him and I'm a fan of how he built his way back up to play regularly again. He's got such a strong mentality. Away from the Premier League, I watch a bit of La Liga and I'm a fan of Joao Felix at Atletico Madrid. He's got a lot of potential."

3. Romaine comes from a sporty family. His younger brother Rio plays for our Under-12s while his older brother also played football for a while before attending university. His mum is a former netball player.

4. If he couldn't be a footballer, Romaine would like to run a restaurant with his dad, who works as a chef and currently owns a jerk chicken restaurant close to our stadium: "Whenever he's cooking, I'm always around to see what he's doing," the 16-year-old said. "He makes a nice lobster and a curry prawn dish. I can cook a good roast dinner!"

5. Romaine names actor and comedian Kevin Hart as someone he'd like to meet while he enjoys going to Turkey on holiday: "We've been there five times," he said. "I loved it there when I was younger – there was always a lot to do and the weather was always nice. We were never bored, although I remember one time we got stranded there for an extra week because of storms and the flight home was fully booked so we had to get another flight to Scotland and then take a nine-hour mini-van drive to London. I got food poisoning on the way back – that was the worst!"

LEASING.COM TROPHY: COLCHESTER 1-1 SPURS (SPURS WIN 6-5 ON PENALTIES)

Our Development Squad got off the mark in this season's Leasing.com Trophy with a 1-1 draw and subsequent penalty shootout victory at Colchester United last week (8 October).

After a bright performance against a senior men's side in which Tashan Oakley-Boothe cancelled out Luke Norris' opener to secure a share of the spoils, the game went to penalties with an extra point up for grabs. Harvey White and Phoenix Patterson both hit the woodwork but goalkeeper Jonathan De Bie prevented Noah Chilvers from winning the shootout for the hosts, with Kion Etete, Tariq Hinds and Malachi Fagan-Walcott all subsequently scoring before substitute Brandon Comley put Colchester's last kick wide, ensuring we won 6-5.

The impressive Luis Binks, Armando Shashoua and TJ Eyoma scored our other penalties. The outcome put us on two points in Southern Group A, with a trip to winless Gillingham still to come next month.

Colchester United: Ross, Chilvers, Clampin, Lapslie (c) (Comley 68), Eastman, Sowunmi, Poku (Robinson 79), Sarpong-Wiredu (Jackson 75), Norris, Brown, Senior. Substitutes (not used): Vose, Kensdale, Dunne, Stevenson.

Spurs: De Bie, Eyoma, Hinds, Bowden (c) (Patterson 67), Fagan-Walcott, Binks, Oakley-Boothe, White, Richards (Etete 89), Shashoua, Tracey (Markanday 75). Substitutes (not used): Oluwayemi, R Clarke, Lyons-Foster, Pochettino.

BINKS PLEASED WITH SENIOR SHOWING

Teenage defender Luis Binks admitted our Development Squad still has room for improvement, despite an impressive showing at Colchester. Taking on a senior League Two side in our second group stage match of the Leasing.com Trophy, we played well over the 90 minutes to earn a 1-1 draw at the JobServe Community Stadium, before winning the subsequent penalty shootout for an extra point.

"It was a good result, a good shift from the boys," said Luis, 18. "It was obviously a bad time to concede going into half-time (Norris headed Colchester in front on 44 minutes) but we came out in the second half and I think we could have won it to be honest, but we stayed in the contest and didn't concede. Colchester had a chance late on which was poor defending from us, but we hung in there and got our rewards later."

Manning the barricades alongside 17-year-old Malachi Fagan-Walcott, Luis, who was singled out for praise by coach Wayne Burnett after the recent Premier League 2 match at Brighton, added: "It was hard, of course, but Malachi and I have played together for a long time and I think we complement each other well."

GILLINGHAM KICK-OFF CHANGE

Our Development Squad's third and final group stage match in the Leasing.com Trophy at Gillingham on Tuesday 12 November will now kick-off at 7pm.

The tie had previously been scheduled to get underway at 7.45pm. The match remains at Priestfield Stadium, with ticketing details to be confirmed in due course.

SEAGULLS TAKE THE POINTS

Our Under-23s were picked off by Brighton & Hove Albion as we shipped four goals in the Premier League 2 for the second time in a week at the Amex at the end of last month.

Rodel Richards saw a couple of chances go begging before firing us ahead approaching the half-hour mark as we generally controlled the first period, albeit struggling to hold onto possession at times, and it was only a fortuitous deflected strike from Ryan Longman that drew the Seagulls level.

But when defender Luis Binks accidentally steered Jack Leahy's shot into his own net at the start of the second half, the hosts pushed on to win 4-1, Longman lashing home his second of the night before unselfishly squaring for substitute Lorent Tolaj to score from close range.

Brighton: Keto, Yapi, Furlong (Leonard 68), Spong, Tsoungui, O'Hora (c), Longman, Davies, Radulovic (Tolaj 74), Cashman (Wilson 88), Leahy. Substitutes (not used): McGill, Freestone.

INTERNATIONAL BOW FOR JAMIE

Central midfielder Jamie Bowden earned his first call-up by the Republic of Ireland at Under-19 level during the international break.

After captaining our Development Squad at Colchester, he jetted off to Sligo and made his debut from the start as Ireland took on Denmark in a friendly on Friday 11 October, losing 1-0.

He then featured as a second-half substitute as Ireland lost 2-0 to the same opponents on Monday.

THE EX FILES

Profiling former Academy players who made the grade as a pro after leaving our youth set-up…

GRANT WARD

Lewisham-born Grant Ward was a versatile right-sided player when he joined our Academy full-time in the summer of 2011, having already played for our Under-18s during the previous season.

In his first full campaign in our youth set-up, he featured in more Under-18s games than any other player, making 29 appearances including all three FA Youth Cup ties. After turning professional in July, 2013, he stepped up to play for our Development squad during 2013/14 before spending a 10-month loan spell with Chicago Fire in the MLS between March, 2014 and January, 2015.

Following an 11-game loan spell with Coventry City, Grant spent 2015/16 on loan with Rotherham United, making 40 appearances and scoring twice. He won the club's Young Player of the Year and Goal of the Year awards.

He left us in August, 2016, for Ipswich Town and scored a 39-minute hat-trick on his debut in a 4-2 win over Barnsley. He featured regularly for the Tractor Boys until suffering a cruciate knee ligament injury in December, 2018. He was released by Ipswich in May but remained with the club while continuing his rehab from injury.

SPURS WOMEN

Rianna Dean hooks the ball goalwards at The Hive

UNITED ESCAPE WITH THE POINTS

Our women's team suffered a first home defeat in the Barclays FA Women's Super League (WSL) last Sunday, losing 3-0 to Manchester United at The Hive.

An early strike from Kirsty Hanson gave the visitors the lead, before an own goal from Ashleigh Neville doubled their advantage early in the second half.

We went close from long range a handful of times as the game went on but shortly after the Red Devils were reduced to 10 players when Lauren James picked up a second yellow card, substitute Jane Ross finished off the scoring in added time.

Head Coaches Karen Hills and Juan Amoros made one change to the side who were victorious against West Ham at the London Stadium in our last run-out as Neville started ahead of Siri Worm at left-back.

The opening goal from our former FA Women's Championship rivals came after 12 minutes – Jackie Groenen's shot inside the area was blocked by Anna Filbey, before Hanson's follow up was deflected in past Becky Spencer.

We had two good chances following United's goal with Rianna Dean coming close with a half-volley, then a free-kick from Chloe Peplow was fired inches over the crossbar.

The Red Devils made it 2-0 shortly after the break as Leah Galton's drilled cross into the box was turned into the back of her own net by the sliding Neville.

Rosella Ayane, Kit Graham and Rachel Furness all saw their efforts from long range go close – Ayane and Furness notably forcing United goalkeeper Mary Earps to back-pedal and tip over the bar – but it wasn't enough to get us back into the game.

At the other end of the pitch, Spencer made a superb one-on-one block from Groenen following a fluid United attack, with Filbey getting back to clear off the line as the loose ball spun towards the net.

Hills and Amoros changed the team's shape in the last 10 minutes, bringing Megan Wynne into midfield for her WSL bow, and United were reduced to 10 players in the last minute of normal time when James was shown a second yellow card and subsequent red.

But they still managed to find

Josie Green on the ball against United as Rachel Furness watches on a third goal in the first minute of stoppage time as Ross' effort from inside the box rolled in, despite the best efforts of defender Hannah Godfrey to keep it out. Furness' subsequent swirling shot hit the post from 35 yards, but the points were United's.

Juan Amoros said: "It was a tough encounter for both sides. I think both teams played well but we should have been more clinical with our chances – we need to do better and improve for our next game. We've had a lot of praise for our defence in recent games and I think we put in a good performance, but we fell short. For the first goal, we could have cleared the ball a couple of times in the build-up and then the second came from a cross which we should have prevented coming in. The third goal was a really sloppy one to concede after they've gone down to 10 players as well. There are plenty of lessons to learn from this and we will go away and analyse and prepare for the next game."

Spurs Women: Spencer, Percival, Godfrey, Filbey (Wynne 80), Neville, Peplow (Haines 68), Green (c), Furness, Graham, Ayane, Dean (Quinn 65). Substitutes (not used): Morgan, Schillaci, Worm, Addison.

Manchester United Women: Earps, Smith, Ladd (Toone 78), Galton, Harris, Groenen (Ross 84), M Turner, Zelem (c), Hanson (Sigsworth 65), James, A Turner. Substitutes (not used): Mikalsen, Okvist, Green.

KAREN AND JUAN SCOOP MANAGER OF THE MONTH PRIZE

Head Coaches Karen Hills and Juan Amoros were named the Barclays FA Women's Super League (WSL) Manager of the Month for September last weekend.

The duo guided the team to back-to-back wins against Liverpool and West Ham during our first month of playing in the top flight, which positioned us fifth in the league table, before defeat to United last Sunday.

Karen and Juan saw off competition from Arsenal manager Joe Montemurro, Nick Cushing of Manchester City and Chelsea boss Emma Hayes to win the award in their first month managing in the WSL.

Collecting the trophy at Hotspur Way, Karen said: "I'm extremely proud and honoured to receive the award alongside Juan. I think it shows the hard work that's taken place behind the scenes – we've got amazing backroom staff and every single one of them has been recognised for doing a fantastic job. It's all about the team behind the team and obviously this is down to the players as well.

"It's the start of another chapter for us in this incredible story, we've come such a long way and we'll always remember the history and the memories but it's about the here and now. It's a massive challenge for us in the WSL, but one we are embracing on and off the pitch."

Juan added: "It's a great achievement for Karen and myself, we've been working really hard for a few years now, trying to get to this level and to be here now. Being recognised in our first month, competing against three top managers in this country – Joe, Nick and Emma – for the award, and winning it, is a great honour. I think the girls and the rest of the staff deserve the credit as well because they've been outstanding and deserve the recognition as much as we do."

FILBEY EARNS FIRST CAP FOR WALES

Anna Filbey made her debut for Wales in their 1-0 win against Belarus on Tuesday 8 October in Group C of the Women's Euro 2021 qualifying campaign.

Filbey, who represented England at youth level with the Under 17s and Under 19s, played the full 90 minutes for Jayne Ludlow's side, alongside Spurs team-mate Josie Green. Megan Wynne was an unused substitute in the victory at the Borisov Arena.

After making her first Wales appearance, Anna said: "Receiving my first cap was a huge honour and a privilege. It was a massive opportunity for me and I enjoyed every moment of it. I am delighted we managed to get the result and I can't wait to see what the future holds for the squad."

Karen Hills and Juan Amoros won the Barclays Manager of the Month award for September

FROM GRASSROOTS TO GLORY: HIGH DEMAND FOR PLAYER DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMMES

Once again, our Player Development Programmes are in high demand, with two of our four venues already sold out. However, there are limited spaces left at selected venues during October half-term.

The Player Development Programmes offer unique technical development coaching during school holidays and throughout the year to young players aged 5 – 12. The programmes are designed to provide an exceptional learning environment that encourages players to be independent, think creatively and which allows the young players to play without fear of failure or criticism.

Our renowned coaching methods have been developed by our Global Football Development and Academy coaches, which has created a framework tailored to produce the right environment for learning and progressing through our elite player pathway.

Alex, a parent of one of the players attending our development programme at St Dunstan's, said: "I wanted to say such a huge thank you to the team who ran the St Dunstan's programme. My son had an amazing time and the coaches have all been so incredible. It really has been exceptional and such a great experience."

YOUR GUIDE TO WHAT'S HAPPENING ON THE CLUB'S DOORSTEP

LEDLEY JOINS RAIDERS IN THE COMMUNITY

Ahead of the first NFL Gameday at Tottenham Hotspur Stadium, the Club and NFL hosted a community flag football session for over 100 children from the local area.

The event, supported by Tottenham Hotspur Foundation and Oakland Raiders, was held at New River Sports Centre on White Hart Lane and was attended by pupils from Lancastrian Primary School, Park View Secondary School and The Vale School, who all had the chance to try out NFL for the first time.

The session was led by students from the NFL's Academy – a programme run in a partnership between the NFL, Tottenham Hotspur, Barnet and Southgate College and Nike. The Academy offers student athletes the chance to combine full-time education with intense American football training in order to create pathways into further education and employment and even the opportunity of playing college football in the US.

Ledley King joined former Raiders players Jim Plunkett, George Atkinson, Lincoln Kennedy, Marcel Reece and Maek Van Eeghen to help deliver the session and offer his words of encouragement to the children.

This is the latest in a number of community activations that NFL teams have delivered in Tottenham, alongside the Club, since the NFL London Games began in 2007, with San Francisco 49ers, Buffalo Bills and Dallas Cowboys all visiting.

Ledley said: "It's fantastic to see the NFL embracing our local community and creating long-term opportunities to support young people. The NFL Academy is set to provide employment and further education for people from underprivileged backgrounds, while grassroots flag football events such as today's give children the chance to try out a new sport while having fun."

Alistair Kirkwood, NFL UK Managing Director, said: "This was a special day for the children who took part and we are very proud to have worked with Tottenham Hotspur and the Oakland Raiders to make it happen. We have always seen our partnership with Tottenham Hotspur as a way to become more involved in the local community and to use our sport to create opportunities for young people. This event was a prime example of that in action."

History was made on 6 October when we hosted our first-ever NFL Game at the new stadium as part of a 10-year partnership. Chicago Bears met Oakland Raiders in the first game, while the Carolina Panthers and Tampa Bay Buccaneers faced off last weekend. A full round-up and reaction to the two games will feature in our matchday programme against Crvena zvezda on Tuesday.

VORM RETURNS 'HOME'

Back in London with nothing but a car and a pair of goalie gloves, Michel Vorm feels like he's "home", having this week returned for a second spell in our colours to bolster our ranks in the goalkeeping department.

With us for five years between summer 2014 and the end of last season, the 35-year-old moved back to his homeland of the Netherlands following his departure from the Club.

But little did he know as he settled down in his living room to watch our visit to Brighton & Hove Albion on television the weekend before last that he'd soon be getting on a plane to resume his old life in north London.

On the day he returned to Hotspur Way, we caught up with the former Swansea City and Utrecht keeper.

Michel – welcome back!

"Thank you, it's good to be back. I'm very pleased, happy to be here. It's easy in a way – nothing really changes. I know most of the players, the staff obviously and everyone who is working here. I've been here for five seasons already so for me, it's just coming home. Obviously I'm not up to game fitness yet so in that part we need to improve a bit, but I feel good."

Where were you when Hugo Lloris got injured at Brighton?

"I was watching the game, at home in Holland. Obviously I saw straight away that he had a nasty injury and at the time I thought about how bad it was. After the game I spoke with Jan (Vertonghen), he told me what was going on and I spoke also with Toni (Jimenez, our goalkeeping coach) and, yes, during the week I got the phone call to ask if I was open to come back and help out.

"I've kept in contact with a lot of the players and also with Toni. We were speaking quite regularly and on Thursday he called me, we had the conversation and from there on, it went very quickly."

You've always been someone who champions squad morale. How important is team spirit and togetherness at the moment as we try to move on from some disappointing results?

"Very important. At the end, we need to do it all together – we need everyone. It's easy to get into a negative situation but we need to stay positive and do this all together. With the quality we have and with the new signings we made over the summer, I think the squad is stronger than ever.

"If you can keep the positive vibe, the right energy and make sure that we do this together, it won't be a problem. The season is long as well, so don't forget that there are a lot of points to win. It's quite tight but a lot of things can happen and we've seen, last season in particular, what we're capable of in different situations. Now is the right time to stand up and do this as a group."

You've worked with Paulo Gazzaniga since 2017. What can you say about him?

"I saw his quality from the beginning. He's a good lad and he's also a guy who has a good, strong mentality. He will bring good energy with him and I'm 100 per cent sure that he will do a great job. I spoke with him yesterday, he's happy that I'm back and I'm happy to see him – we're just going to catch up like nothing has happened really, so it's all good."

How has life been treating you since we last saw you in Madrid four-and-a-half months ago?

"Different! Obviously I've been without a club for a few months and I've never been in this situation before but I've learned a lot, also spending time with the family and being around different things, not only football. When you're a bit older like me, you appreciate these kinds of moments much more. I also maintained my fitness but I enjoyed my life – my other life – and that's something that I haven't had for 20-plus years. It was different but it was positive, a good experience, but at the end of the day you're still a football player and for me now, being back here, it feels like 'let's go again.'"

What does the name Watford stir in the memory of club historian John Fennelly? We find out.

1 GERRY ARMSTRONG

Tyrone-born Gerry Armstrong started out in both Gaelic codes, was working as a civil servant and playing part-time football for Bangor when we signed him as a pro late in 1975.

Within a year the powerful centre-forward had made his senior debut but we went down at the end of that campaign and Gerry found himself under pressure from the likes of future Hornet Mark Falco for a starting place.

When we signed strike duo Steve Archibald and Garth Crooks the following year, Armstrong opted to join Watford.

He did particularly well in Northern Ireland's 1982 World Cup challenge in Spain and that saw him move to Real Mallorca within a year. He currently commentates on Spanish football.

2 CHRIS JONES

In season 1975/76 we enjoyed a good run in the League Cup in what was Terry Neill's only full season as Spurs manager.

The second-round draw saw us paired with Watford who had just been relegated to the Fourth Division the season before while we had only survived in the top flight by a single point.

Watford gave a good account of themselves at Vicarage Road from where we were happy to escape with a narrow triumph thanks to Chris Jones scoring the only goal on the hour. Barry Daines, in for Pat Jennings who was unwell, was certainly the busier of the two goalkeepers.

We proceeded to win 2-0 at Crewe and then beat West Ham after extra time at Upton Park following a 0-0 draw at the Lane. John Duncan hit a hat-trick and Martin Chivers a brace when we hammered Doncaster Rovers 7-2 but Newcastle knocked us out on a 3-2 aggregate in the semis.

3 MARK FALCO

Mark Falco was a star in London schools' football before signing for Spurs as an apprentice in July 1977. Within a year he was a full professional.

He scored regularly for our youth team and reserves, hit the net when he got his first senior chance in a friendly at Truro in 1978 and did it again the following year when he stepped up for his First Division debut at Bolton where we won 3-1.

He was soon a regular in the team and a key part of our UEFA Cup-winning side of 1984. He left us for Watford in 1986.

4 JURGEN KLINSMANN

Vicarage Road played a big part in Jurgen Klinsmann's acclimatisation to English football after he first joined Spurs in July 1994.

His opening appearance in a Spurs shirt came in a pre-season friendly there soon after he signed when Richard Johnson and Teddy Sheringham shared the goals in a 1-1 draw that attracted such a large crowd that the kick-off was delayed.

We then drew Division One side Watford in the two-leg second round of the League Cup with Klinsmann bagging a hat-trick at Vicarage Road in our 6-3 win. The Hornets won the return 3-2 when Jurgen again hit the target.

We lost 3-0 at Notts County in the following round.

5 PAT JENNINGS

Still a great favourite in N17, the big goalkeeper was playing for Newry Town when our former skipper Ron Burgess, then the Hornets boss, spotted him representing Northern Ireland in a youth tournament in Bognor Regis and quickly signed him for Watford.

He was already a senior international when he arrived at the Lane in June 1964, where he gained legendary status at home and abroad. He still coaches our Academy goalkeepers.

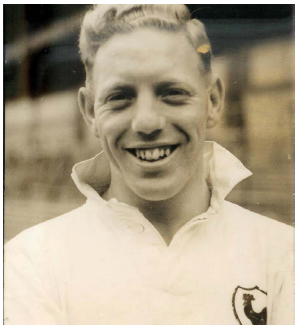
6 WILLIE HALL

Spurs wore shirts numbers for the first time when we entertained Watford, then a Third Division South side, at White Hart Lane in the third round of the FA Cup in January 1939.

We were in Division Two at the time but would be playing Watford regularly in the following seasons as World War Two dictated a more localised league.

Our lads beat the Hornets 7-1 with Willie Hall and Les Miller both scoring twice. Our other goals came from Ralph Ward (penalty), Fred Sargent and Andy Duncan. William Dunderdale replied for Watford.

We then faced a marathon with fellow Second Division side West Ham. The first game ended in a 3-3 draw at the Boleyn Ground and the replay ended 1-1 after extra time. The Hammers finally overcame our challenge with a 2-1 second replay win at neutral Highbury.



7 DENNIS BOND

Former Watford boss Ron Burgess also sold us Dennis Bond in March 1967, after the Walthamstow-born midfielder had made his Hornets debut at the age of 17.

He was playing regularly at Watford but found the competition fierce at Tottenham following his first senior start as substitute at home to Liverpool the following month.

A creative, industrious player, Bond did well with Charlton when he moved there in 1970 before returning to Watford, initially on loan, three years later.

CONGRATULATIONS

Many congratulations to these Spurs supporters:

Many congratulations to Kerry and Sophie Nottley-Williams, who were married on 3 August. They are both here at today's game as Kerry is a Spurs fan and One Hotspur member, while Sophie is a Watford season ticket holder!

OBITUARIES

We were sorry to hear of the passing of the following Spurs supporters:

Season ticket holder Keith Jones, who suffered a cardiac arrest outside the stadium on 25 August and passed away later that day at the age of 66. His family would like to thank the stadium paramedics for all their efforts and especially Rishi Duggal for all his interventions, kindness, care and compassion he has shown them at this sad time. Keith was a devoted dad, husband and grandpa and will be sorely missed by his friends and family.

John Clarke, a season ticket holder and lifelong fan who passed away suddenly on his way home from our game against Southampton on 28 September.

Barry Spiers, who passed away on 2 October at the age of 62. A lifelong fan who worked at White Hart Lane as a steward supervisor in the 1970s and 80s, he unfortunately never got to see the new stadium. He will be deeply missed by all his family and friends.

Reginald Staines, who passed away on 14 September. A lifelong fan, his son Barry works as matchday staff and he will be sadly missed by everyone who knew him.

Malcom Folley, a lifelong fan who sadly passed away on 5 August, aged 58, after a short illness. A regular attendee during the 1970s, he passed his love of Tottenham onto his son Jamie, who attends regularly, daughter Gemma and granddaughter Maisie. He will be sadly missed by all his family and friends.

We would like to extend our condolences to their famillies and friends at this sad time.

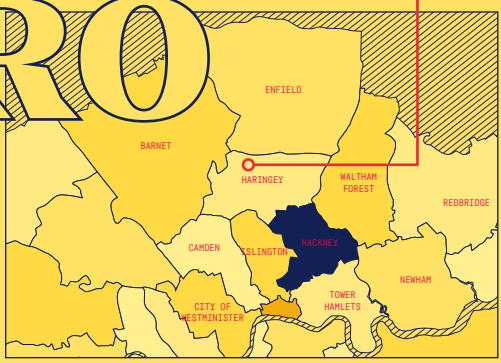
LOCAL HERO

PLAYER NAME:
LES BENNETT
D.O.B: 10.01.1918
POSITION: INSIDE-FORWARD
LEAGUE APPEARANCES: 272
BORN IN: WOOD GREEN



Looking back on players spotted by Spurs playing locally in schools' football – and who went on to star in our first team. John Fennelly details the career of Les Bennett Influential winger Les Bennett scored a hat-trick against Watford on his Spurs debut. The match was a war-time Football League South encounter at White Hart Lane when we won 8-2 with Les Medley also banging in three.

Bennett was a big success in local schools' football when he represented Wood Green, Middlesex and London and was added to our Junior ranks while still at school. His younger brother Ken would follow that same route but subsequently enjoy better days at Brighton.

Les signed amateur forms with us and was subsequently sent to our nursery side Northfleet United, returning to the Lane to have his professional status confirmed in 1939. But, like so many of his generation, the outbreak of World War Two would put his footballing career on hold and take away some of his best years.

Bennett joined the Devon Regiment and served in Burma, India and Egypt. He followed up his debut against Watford with another 10 appearances for us in the war league, but his military service subsequently dictated who he played for whenever he was on leave.

He guested for Millwall and later Torquay United while based on the south coast and then, during service in Northern Ireland, took the opportunity to play for Belfast side Distillery where he did so well that he was selected to represent the Northern Ireland Regional League against the League of Ireland in April, 1943.

The game ended 2-2 and was played at Windsor Park, Belfast, in front of a 21,000 crowd.

On de-mob, he quickly returned to Tottenham. But he was now 28 and, with new manager Joe Hulme rebuilding the side, Bennett had some work to do to prove that he could hack it in our Division Two side. Clearly Les lacked sustained experience at the highest level but his undoubted ability would prove the decisive factor.

Hulme, a former winger himself, was instantly impressed and was a great believer in home produced players. His response was to throw Bennett in at the deep end, making his senior debut in the first game of the 1946/47 season against Birmingham City at the Lane alongside fellow new boys Ted Ditchburn, Les Medley, George Skinner, Arthur Willis and George Foreman – who scored in the 2-1 defeat.

Les kept his place and scored in our next five games as we began to find our feet on our way to a sixth-place finish in the league. He barely missed a game and ended up as our leading league goalscorer with 15 – one better than Foreman – and scored once in the FA Cup.

He was soon a mainstay of the side, creating and scoring goals, with good speed, awareness and close control plus an elegant engine that he oiled with hard work. He was fit and dependable, consistent and reliable. He got close to representing England but somehow it just never happened for him.

However, we were barely above being competitive in Division Two and, although Hulme led the side to an FA Cup semi-final that we lost after extra time, promotion was always the aim and it was rarely within our grasp.

When former Spurs captain Arthur Rowe replaced Hulme in May 1949, he inherited a quality squad that he immediately set out moulding in his own style. His creation was our 'Push and Run' vision in which he saw a crucial role for Les.

Bennett played regularly as we raced to the Division Two title in 1950 and then swept all challengers aside to win the League Championship for the first time the following year. We were second in the final table in 1952 and, although we reached another FA Cup semi, our fortunes began to slowly wane.

By 1954, at the age of 36, Les could see the dying of the flame. He was playing fewer games each season and was honest enough with himself to appreciate that his time at Tottenham was coming to a close.

He moved to West Ham, where he was captain, and then joined Clacton Town as manager where brother Ken was a player. A brief spell with Romford concluded his footballing career.

In 1947, Les made a brief appearance in the film 'Odd Man Out' that was set in Belfast with some scenes shot in London near Bennett's Hackney home.

AWAY MATCH

Arthur Grimsdell

Our legendary captain Arthur Grimsdell, who led our 1921 FA Cup-winning side, was born in Watford in March, 1894, and lived there throughout his whole life.

After receiving the trophy from King George V following our victory over Wolves in the rain at Stamford Bridge, Grimsdell opted not to join the rest of the team in the charabanc that made its way through the cheering streets back to Tottenham.

Instead he walked down to the nearby Walham Green station and caught the train home to Watford for his tea.

The young Arthur had been spotted playing locally in schools' football by Watford where he signed as a pro in 1911. He joined us the following year at the age of 18 and stayed until 1929, apart for his war service when he 'guested' for the Hornets while on leave.

He won six England caps, three as captain, and served Watford as a director between 1945/51. He also played county cricket for Hertfordshire.

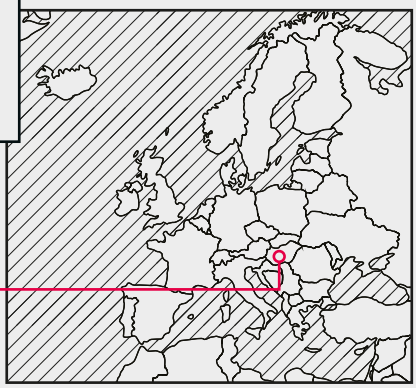
EURO ZONE



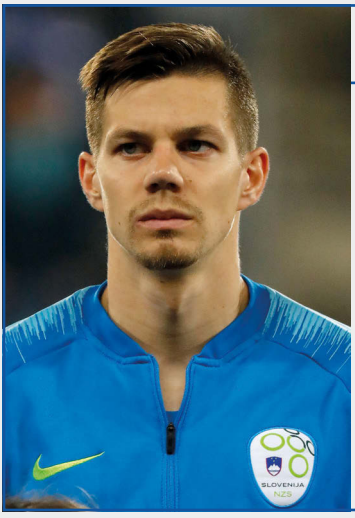
SLOVENIA
Capital: Ljubljana
Language: Slovene (Slovenian)

Ahead of UEFA Euro 2020, Andy Greeves offers the lowdown on various nations hoping to appear at the European Championships as it celebrates its 60th anniversary. Today he takes a look at Matjaz Kek's Slovenia

FORM GUIDE

Defeats to North Macedonia and Austria in the most recent round of UEFA Euro 2020 qualifying fixtures has left Slovenia's hopes of appearing at next summer's tournament hanging by a thread.

Matjaz Kek's side need maximum points in their two remaining qualifiers against Latvia and Poland to stand any chance of making it to just their second-ever European Championships. After two draws and a defeat in their opening Group G fixtures, a series of three consecutive victories – including a 2-0 triumph over Poland on 6 September this year – put Slovenia in a strong position in the group prior to their recent back-to-back losses.



KEY PLAYER

Fenerbahce midfielder Miha Zajc has impressed with his performances for the national team this calendar year, with goals in Slovenia's 1-1 draw with North Macedonia and 5-0 triumph in Latvia, while Dynamo Kyiv's Benjamin Verbic bagged a brace in a 3-2 home victory over Israel.

The nation's most influential player might well be goalkeeper Jan Oblak, however. The Atletico Madrid stopper, who was nominated for the Ballon d'Or in both 2017 and 2018, captained his country for the first time and kept a clean sheet in the aforementioned 2-0 triumph over Poland in September. He has won 26 caps for Slovenia to date.

SPURS CONNECTION

Our first meeting with Slovenian opposition came in the now-defunct UEFA Intertoto Cup, as we travelled to the Ob Jezeru stadium on 1 July, 1995 to take on Rudar Velenje. With our first-team squad on their summer break during the tournament, we fielded a mixture of reserve and youth players as well as individuals specifically loaned in for the competition such as Barnet's Mark Newson, Northampton Town's Ian Sampson, St Mirren's David Byrne and Charlton Athletic's Alan Pardew.

Despite the makeshift nature of our team, we triumphed 2-1 in Velenje thanks to strikes from Sampson and John Hendry, playing his final match for us prior to a transfer to Motherwell. We failed to progress to the last 16 of the tournament however, losing our other three Group 2 fixtures.

We returned to Slovenia on 25 October, 2012 to play NK Maribor in a UEFA Europa League Group J match. A second-half strike from Gylfi Sigurdsson secured a point in a 1-1 draw after Robert Beric had given the hosts the lead three minutes before half-time. Beric struck again in the second match between the teams at White Hart Lane on 8 November but a hat-trick from Jermain Defoe saw us run out 3-1 winners in front of a crowd of 27,089.

Ljubljana-born Milenko Acimovic is the only Slovenian player to have played for us to date. Having represented the likes of Zeleznicar Ljubljana and NK Olimpija early in his career, the winger signed for us from Red Star Belgrade in 2002 having featured for Slovenia at that summer's World Cup and the European Championships two years previously.

Acimovic made his competitive debut for us as a substitute in our 2-2 draw at Everton on the opening day of the 2002/03 season. He made five starts and 18 appearances for us during the campaign prior to a transfer to French side Lille OSC in 2004. He later turned out for Al-Ittihad and Austria Vienna before retiring from playing in 2010. He won 74 caps for Slovenia during his career, scoring 13 goals.

EURO HISTORY

Slovenia's one and only appearance at the finals of a European Championships came back in 2000 when the side competed in the tournament jointly hosted by Belgium and the Netherlands.

Srecko Katanec's team were involved in a thrilling 3-3 draw with FR Yugoslavia in their opening Group C match in Charleroi on June 13. A brace from Zlatko Zahovic and a further strike from Miran Pavlin put them 3-0 up by the 52nd minute of the game but two goals from Savo Milosevic and a Ljubinko Drulovic effort salvaged a point for Yugoslavia.

Zahovic was on target once again as Slovenia went down to a 2-1 defeat to Spain in Amsterdam on 18 June while a goalless draw with Norway in Arnhem three days later saw Slovenia eliminated from the competition.

SPURS RESPECTS

We are justly proud of our superb and loyal support, home and away. We all have a responsibility to act as ambassadors of Tottenham Hotspur Football Club. And act as considerate neighbours to those who live and work in the area around the stadium.
If you witness any form of anti-social abusive or discriminatory behaviour, homophobic language, crime, vandalism, violence, the use of smoke bombs or pyrotechnics close to you at any of our matches, please send a text to 07537 404821 along with your location (block/row/seat) and the location of the offence (block/row/seat).
Text 07537 404821 with – FOUL (language and behaviour); RACISM (racist chanting & shouting); HPH (homophobic chanting); DRINK (drinking alcohol in view of the pitch); SMOKE (smoking in the stadium); STAND (standing up); PYRO (use of or intended use of any pyrotechnics or smoke bomb).

SMOKING

There is no smoking or use of e-cigarettes permitted anywhere across the stadium campus.

PLEASE REMAIN SEATED

Please remain in your seats during play to ensure that the view is not obstructed for other spectators.

EMERGENCY EVACUATION

In the unlikely event that we should have to evacuate the stadium, please adhere to the advice given by front line staff and on our public address system.

Continuing our new Q&A feature for this season – using the year of the Club's formation as inspiration – as we ask our players to choose 18 lifestyle questions from a selection of 82. This afternoon, goalkeeper Paulo Gazzaniga takes his place in the hotseat…

1. What would you sing at a karaoke?

Paulo: "It would have to be a song that I know well, maybe 'Knockin' On Heaven's Door' by Bob Dylan. By the way, that was the song I sung for my initiation when I went to the national team last season."

2. Do you do the washing up?

Paulo: "I do everything! The dishes, wash, cook, everything."

3. You have a rare day off – what is your perfect day?

Paulo: "Rest! It depends on the weather as well. I'd be at home with my girlfriend, Patricia, and my dog, Teo."

4. What would be your fancy dress costume?

Paulo: "Something crazy. I remember once I was dressed as an Egyptian mummy."

5. What was the last TV box set you watched – or what are you watching at the moment?

Paulo: "I'm watching 'Peaky Blinders' at the moment. Everyone spoke so well about it. I love it. I'm on the second season already."

6. What advice would you give to a younger player?

Paulo: "Humility, sacrifice and hard work. These are the words my father used to give to me as well when I was young."

7. What is the first thing you do in the morning?

Paulo: "Open my eyes! I wake up, brush my teeth, get changed and go and prepare the Mate (traditional South American hot drink)."

8. Who would you most like to meet?

Paulo: "That's difficult. I would like to meet people who would give me good advice as a goalkeeper – maybe Gianluigi Buffon."

9. What are you always asked in interviews?

Paulo: "How are you?! Most of my interviews start with where I came from or how I started my career and often, at Spurs, how and when I found out I was going to play in that particular game."

10. What sort of father do you think you will be?

Paulo: "I don't know, maybe I will try to copy my dad. He was a good role model for me."

11. What is your position on facial hair?

Paulo: "Yes, now it's fashionable."

12. When was the last time you cried?

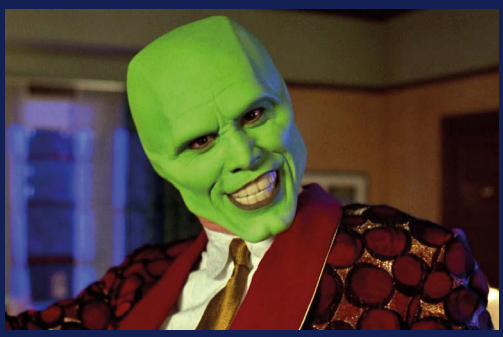
Paulo: "That was when we beat Ajax in the second leg of the Champions League semi-final, a special night."

13. Did you ever appear in a school play?

Paulo: "Yes, when I was younger. Back home in Argentina there are different dates when we celebrate different traditions. For one, we used to do traditional dancing, in front of the whole school. Now, I wouldn't do it!"

14. Can you remember the first film you watched?

Paulo: "I remember back home we had a VHS player and we had two videos – one was the film 'The Mask' and the other was from Argentina, the cartoon 'Trapito'



15. What is your favourite photograph?

Paulo: "I have a few. I have a small one with all my family, brothers, sisters, mum and dad. I was maybe about 10. That one is special. There is another I have as well when I was a baby and I have a goalkeeper's glove."

16. What talent do you wish you had?

Paulo: "I'd like to play a musical instrument. The top one would be the piano, or the guitar. I tried to learn the guitar, but it was difficult."

17. Would you like to be able to go back into the past or to see into the future?

Paulo: "The past, for sure. I'd go back to a time where I did something wrong and put it right or maybe talk again with some people who are no longer with us."

18. What is the best advice you have been given?

Paulo: "The gaffer once said to me 'football never waits for anyone' and I've always kept that in my mind."
